WANTED

Lucinda Boltz

Lucinda Boltz

OCCUPATION

ACE AUTOMOBILE MECHANIC

DESCRIPTION

Lucinda Boltz knew her life was about to change forever when Carmen drove up in her 1939 Packard convertible, water pump rattling and radiator boiling over. After $89.95 in parts and labor, the grey-haired mechanic took her toolkit, prized Andrew Wyeth paintings, and her pet armadillo and threw them all into the rumble seat of the Packard. She thus became Carmen's mechanic, chauffeur and right-hand woman. When not driving a getaway car or fixing one, Lucinda likes to curl up in front of the tube and watch videotapes, her favorites being Le Mans and Billie Jean King's Greatest Moments in Tennis.
